LACK OF SANITARY MEASURES BRING DEATH TO HOME

Shocking are the revelations as contained in the statement made recently by a very prominent physician of Tonopah that there is no way to calculate the number of deaths directly attributable to the cesspools and privy vaults of this town. He quoted from statistics, bearing on the former conditions in Cuba, Panama and the present conditions in some of the South American countries, in which the breeding and feeding places of flies and mosquitoes are proven to be a constant source of water-borne, potted water, cesspools and vaults.

It was further stated by this physician that flies feed and breed in the vaults of this town only to fight upon the food afterwards eaten by both infant and adult. The transmission of any number of diseases are directly traceable to this manner of transmitting bacteria, especially is this true as to the baby in arms. There is no screening so effectual as to absolutely free the house from flies and one of these dreaded messengers of death stalking upon baby's food and even into its mouth has robbed many a mother of her loved ones only too often.

The doctor in question even went so far as to say that he alone could testify to the untimely death of many an adult and any number of infants who would otherwise still be among the living were it not for the predominance of vaults and cesspools in our town.

SAVAGE AND TIGER AT THE PASTIME

All jungle and animal pictures in the past have been limited to the visualization of wild animal life in its native quarter, showing their destruction or capture by hunters. George Kleine's photo drama, "Between Savage and Tiger," however, goes a step further. It not only shows the animals and terrors of the jungle, but also relates an absorbing story of love and heroism that enlists the interest in the beginning and holds it fast until the very last picture fades upon the screen. The jungle episodes, while thrilling enough to satisfy the most exacting demands for thrills and excitement, are subsidiary to the love interests. Herein the great Cines company of Italy have shown the master mind, for after all, love is the mainspring of life itself. "Between Savage and Tiger" there is the love between the hero and his wife, which prompts the latter to brave the perils of India to find her husband. The child love for and of the little daughter whose sweetens endears her to everyone with whom she comes in contact and draws into

MOTHER-IN-LAW OBJECTS TO GIRL WIFE OF HER SON

ROMANCE OF LEVI AND GIRL HE MARRIED ON MOUNTAIN PEAK HAS WANDERED

SAN FRANCISCO April 14.—Mrs. Milton J. Levi, heroine of a secret marriage in Independence, Inyo county, last month, is consulting with her lawyer for plans for an alienation suit against her husband's mother, Mrs. Herman Levi.

The basis for the proposed action is the alleged interference of the mother-in-law in the newly-found domestic happiness of the younger Levis. As a result of the importunities of Mrs. Herman Levi to her son to leave his wife and institute proceedings for a separation, Mrs. Milton J. Levi, the bride, says that she has not seen her husband for the last week.

The amount which the younger Mrs. Levi will ask that her mother-in-law pay for taking her son away is set at $200,000.

Milton Levi is vice-president and junior member of the private banking firm of H. Levi & Company. His father, Jacob Levi, for a long time was president of the grocery firm of Jacob Levi & Company. He is rated as a millionaire in his own right. About ten years ago he married a member of a theatrical company showing in this city, but later his parents annulled the marriage. He is a member of the Argonaut and Concordia clubs.

Mrs. Milton Levi was before her marriage Miss Pearl Rubanks, secretary for a local wholesale house. Fearing the anger of his mother, Levi secretly journeyed with her to the top of the Sierra Inyo county for the wedding ceremony. This took place on March 16th.

Mrs. Herman Levi's present husband is a brother of her first husband, Milton Levi's father. After the death of Jacob Levi his brother and widow made a tour of Europe together and were married in Europe in 1912. They live at the Fairmount hotel.

WHERE DO YOU EAT?
AN IMPORTANT QUESTION:
Your health depends upon the right answer. This matter of food should be given more attention by each individual. It is true the government has passed
